

INDIANS MEET TIGERS HERE---SPIDERS OFF TO PLAY FURMAN

LOOK FOR HOT BATTLE ON MAYO ISLE TODAY

William and Mary May Get Surprise From Presbyterians.

GAME TO START AT 3 O'CLOCK

Tigers Spend Night Rehearsing Up For Contest—Student Body Coming From Williamsburg For Contest—Six Richmonders in Lineup.

By Earle Lutz.

William and Mary and Hampden-Sidney hold the center of the local sports stage today.

Promised at 3 o'clock the two elevens will mix at Mayo Island Park in what promises to be one of the most interesting football engagements of the season.

Accompanied by practically the entire student body, the Indians will arrive here this morning for the game. The Tigers arrived from Hampden-Sidney late yesterday, and will be well rested for the game.

Aside from the local interest in the affair, it has been decided that it should be the favorites with the crowd in view of the fact that five of the men who start the game are Richmonders, while a sixth will be used probably before the contest is over.

On paper, William and Mary has a decided edge on Hampden-Sidney, but the Tigers have a habit of upsetting the dups in a way that makes the wise ones wary about laying odds against them. The memory of their last complete victory dashed the hopes of the University of Richmond last fall is still fresh. Then, too, the Tigers have the psychological advantage of having won all their contests to the Indians in nineteen years, which probably means as many as twenty-five victories for Hampden-Sidney in that time.

The Eastern grid season, which should be the favorites with the crowd in view of the fact that five of the men who start the game are Richmonders, while a sixth will be used probably before the contest is over.

Princeton and Amherst are the Eastern teams that have survived. Princeton faces Chicago on the last night of the season, and Amherst is in the same class with Cornell.

All of tomorrow's games are to be closely fought out. An odd circumstance is the fact that of the day's more important games of the day, only one will be between institutions that met on the football field last year.

Princeton enters the Yale bowl with a slate more impressive than that accumulated by the Blue.

The Soldiers have played five games to date, and have a total of 112 points to opponents' 6.

Of the five games played by Yale, Cornell, Tech and Iowa have proved the strongest, and encountered Tech was defeated 13 to 9, but Iowa

PEAK OF EASTERN GRID SEASON REACHED IN CONTESTS TODAY

Army and Navy Have Stellar Roles, With Former Meeting Yale and the Latter Pennsylvania—Princeton-Chicago Clash Best in Middle West.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—The peak of the Eastern gridiron season will be reached tomorrow. Three games of outstanding interest in this section will be staged this side of the Alleghenies, with two Eastern teams journeying West to the intersectional contests.

The United States service corps are racing to the finish line, with the Army battling Yale, Navy, Havard, and the Navy tackling Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. The third East Coast clash will occur at Cambridge, when Harvard and Dartmouth renew football relations after a lapse of four years.
